1. From 22 to 25 August 1950 the Hindenburg Kaserno, Schwerin (N 54/T 46), was occupied to capacity by troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets. No training activity or motor traffic was observed.
 2. The quarters on Braitscheidstrasse housed about 400 LWD personnel and about 200 Soviet dependents. The soldiers were observed undergoing infantry drill.
 3. The Von Fritsch Kaserno was estimated to be about one-third occupied by 500 to 600 troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets, some with motor transport insignia, and some with black epaulets with signal insignia.
 4. The Moltke Kaserno and the Smugger Kaserno were occupied to capacity 50X1-HUM by troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets, about one-third of whom were tank insignia and one-third artillery insignia. Trucks [redacted] were seen in the billeting area, each towing an artillery piece. 50X1-HUM
 5. The Adolf Hitler Kaserno, including its attic, was occupied to capacity. Gate guards wore black-bordered red epaulets. Troops had infantry training in the wooded area near the installation. Truck [redacted] was 50X1-HUM seen towing an AA gun.
 6. Guards at the airfield in Goerries wore red-bordered black epaulets with tank insignia. Local residents said that about 1,000 to 1,200 troops were there. Tanks were apparently stored in two garages which were guarded by soldiers who wore red-bordered black epaulets. The area was marked by tank tracks.
 7. Between 23 and 26 August 1950 the Hindenburg Kaserno was occupied to capacity by 1,000 to 1,200 troops belonging to an artillery and a 50X1-HUM small signal unit. Motor vehicles [redacted] were seen in the billeting area.
